

2012 National Outstanding Guernsey Youth Contest

The highest honor a Guernsey youth can achieve!

*This competition is based on well-
rounded experience in dairy husbandry, breed activities and leadership.*

Application Deadline - March 31, 2012

National Outstanding Guernsey Youth Contest

Eligibility

Any youth successfully completing project work with registered Guernseys and who is a youth member of the American Guernsey Association is eligible to participate in the National Outstanding Guernsey Youth contest.

State Contests

It is recommended that the youth committees adopt this scorecard and format in conducting state Outstanding Guernsey Youth contests. In this way, winners at such contests would be prepared to enter competition at the next level and be assured that the same scoring system was used in all contests.

National Contest

Youth with material prepared as suggested are eligible to compete for the National Guernsey Outstanding Youth contest if they have not reached their 21st birthday by January 1 in the year recognized at the National Convention. Once recognized as a National Outstanding Guernsey Youth winner, a youth member is not eligible to compete again.

National Awards

Each year, the contestants' books will be screened to select up to six finalists. The finalists will appear before a second committee for 20-minute interviews at the National Convention, with the winner and first runner-up being selected by this committee. The national winner will receive an award from the American Guernsey Association as well as a lifetime membership in the American Guernsey Association. When applicable, the state associations will assume the responsibility for meals, lodging and chaperoning at the National Convention and will make other awards as they see fit.

Preparation of Material

The entry book should be prepared carefully, neatly, typed or written and present a true, easy-to-read story of the contestant and registered Guernseys he or she owns and has developed. Material should be accurate, complete and records should not contain filler material. A book should be creative and display the entrant's personality, in addition it should be clearly marked and organized as follows.*

Two photographs

Wallet size...mounted on the first page with name, age, county and complete address. Photos should have a glossy finish.

Section Reporting Your Personal Views

Please turn to back of this guide.

Records and reports must be the work of the nominee for the National Outstanding Guernsey Youth award. If found otherwise, nominee will be disqualified.

 For handling reasons, it is recommended that entrants use protective covers for each sheet of paper.*

Section Reporting Your Personal Views

Respond on a separate sheet of paper and limit typewritten responses to 200 words or less per question.

1. What do you think the future holds for young people getting into the dairy industry right now?
2. What are ways that we can promote the Guernsey cow to make her more attractive to new breeders?
3. List 3 goals for your Guernsey herd, briefly explain how you plan to achieve them and indicate how they would benefit your herd.
4. Animal welfare and care has become a major topic of discussion by the media and the dairy industry. How do you respond when asked about care of your own animals?
5. What programs or services could the AGA provide to Junior Members to enhance their future in this industry?
